Creating Safe and Inclusive Spaces for Sex Parties and Communities

In Sx tech eu, we recognize the importance of promoting safer environments within the context of sex parties and communities, where consent, well-being, and inclusivity are paramount. Our research project aims to collaborate with sex party promoters and offline and online communities to implement technologically supported measures that ensure all attendees' safety, comfort, and enjoyment.

Our primary objective is to harness the power of technology and collaboration to develop cutting-edge digital tools that promote safer and more inclusive experiences at sex parties. By combining the expertise of developers, designers, and sex tech industry professionals, we aim to summarize the report and support guidelines about how sex parties could be organized and enjoyed, making them even more respectful, enjoyable, and empowering for all participants with the support of innovative tech solutions.

Safer Sex Parties Research is an exciting project designed to bring together brilliant minds and innovative thinkers in Berlin to create digital solutions that enhance safety, consent, and inclusivity within the realm of sex parties and communities.

Benefits

- Promoting consent, respect, and inclusivity culture within sex party environments.
- Increasing attendee confidence and comfort, leading to enhanced experiences and exploration.
- Improving public perception of sex parties by showcasing responsible event management and prioritizing participant well-being.
- Fostering collaboration and knowledge sharing among promoters, leading to a more unified and supportive community.
- Establishing a model that can be replicated and adapted by sex party organizers worldwide, promoting safer spaces globally.

Research Highlights:

- Ideation: Collaborate with like-minded individuals and form interdisciplinary teams to brainstorm creative ideas and solutions for safer sex parties. Share your knowledge, expertise, and passion with others dedicated to transforming the industry.
- Challenges: Engage in exciting challenges and problem-solving activities specifically designed to address critical areas of concern within the context of sex parties. These challenges may encompass consent verification, privacy protection, communication tools, inclusive event planning, and violence and abuse reporting.
- Mentorship and Guidance: Benefit from the mentorship and guidance of industry experts who will provide valuable insights, advice, and feedback throughout the process.
- Showcase: Present your advanced digital solutions ideas to a panel at our meetup, and demonstrate how your creations can revolutionize the sex party landscape, making it safer, more consensual, and inclusive for all attendees.
- Networking and Collaboration: Expand your professional network, forge new partnerships, and collaborate with individuals who share your passion for creating positive change within the sex party industry. Connect with potential investors, industry influencers, and like-minded professionals who can help bring your solutions to life.
- Impact and Recognition: Make a meaningful impact by developing digital solutions that can revolutionize the industry. Gain recognition for your contributions to creating safer and more inclusive spaces and the opportunity to implement your ideas in real-world scenarios.
